IJCAAM Guidelines for Authors

The International Journal of Computer Application and Management, as the name indicates, an exceptionally broad range of topics that centre around modern developments in computer systems and management. Emphasis is on applications or research whose potential applicability is convincingly demonstrated

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS

When a paper is accepted for publication (upon completing the peer review process through Manuscript Central), an electronic version of the manuscript will be requested for use in editing and typesetting. Manuscripts should be submitted in Word or LaTeX. The composition of manuscripts should be the following: title page, abstract, keywords, body of paper, appendices, references, separate listing of figure captions, figures, and tables.

Title Page: This page should contain the full title of the paper and complete names, affiliations, addresses, phone and fax numbers, and electronic mail addresses of all authors. The contact author should be indicated.

Abstract: An abstract of not more than 200 words is required. It should contain not only a description of the subject and scope of coverage but also, in the case of research-oriented papers, discuss major results and conclusions.

Paper Descriptions (Paper "Decks" and Table of Contents items): Authors of approved papers should provide a 15 to 25-word description of the coverage of the paper and what the reader will learn from it.

Keywords: All papers must contain keywords or index terms. They are provided by the authors. They should be provided in alphabetical order, and as a final paragraph of the abstract section.

Illustrations: Figures and tables should be sent as separate electronic files and named numerically (e.g., fig1.eps, fig2.tif, table3.doc). The Proceedings of the IEEE is eager to publish color illustrations, especially in those cases where color enhances technical details and understanding; there is no additional cost to the author for publishing color figures.

Units: The International System of Units (the SI or "metric" system) should be used. Where desirable, non-metric equivalents can be included in parentheses.

References: References should be numbered in the order they are mentioned in the text, with numbers within square brackets. The reference section should be double-spaced and in the style shown below; however, if there is any doubt about the correct abbreviation of publication names, these should be given in full. Note that titles of papers plus beginning and ending page numbers should be included.

Photographs and Biographies: Authors' photographs and biographies are published in conjunction with papers. They can be provided after acceptance of a paper and biographies should not exceed 200 words.

Copyright: Submission of a paper implies that the work described has not been published previously (except in the form of an abstract or as part of a published lecture or academic thesis), that it is not under consideration for publication elsewhere, that its publication is approved by all Authors and tacitly or explicitly by the responsible authorities where the work was carried out, and that, if accepted, it will not be published elsewhere in the same form, in English or in any other language, without the written consent of the Publisher.
