New initiatives and future vision, if any:

The institute proposes to commence under graduate course in planning and interior design and also post graduate and doctoral studies in future.

Excellent infrastructure support like workshop experimental laboratories are provided to undertake interdisciplinary research work in the field of sustainable habitat energy conservation, environmental impact, earthquake resistant structures, eco friendly construction techniques rehabilitation of disaster sufferers, etc.

It is envisaged that at the center wider spectrum of research ideas will develop to become a full-fledged interdisciplinary center in human habitat on an excellent seat of learning.

Note: Suppression and/or misrepresentation of information would attract appropriate penal action.
